

name: _____

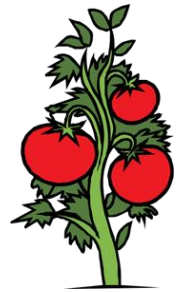

date: _____

Products from all over the world

Bananas are grown in tropical regions across the globe, from South and Central America to India, China and Africa. Bananas grow in hot, tropical climates. Banana plants look like trees.

Today's tomatoes growing in parts of Bolivia, Chile, Colombia, Ecuador and Peru. They are spreading through the Americas, then to Europe and eventually around the globe.

Cotton clothing is very nice to wear, especially in hot weather. Some cotton plants grow wild in tropical and subtropical areas of the world. Cotton farms can be found in Africa, Asia, Europe, Australia, and the Americas.

Questions

Match (Verbinde) the questions to the right answer!

1) Where do bananas grow today?

Bolivia, Chile, Colombia, Ecuador and Peru

2) How do banana plants look like?

hot, tropical climates

3) In which countries do tomatoes grow?

Africa, Asia, Europe, Australia, and America

4) Cotton clothes are very nice to wear in which weather?

hot weather

5) In which areas of the world do cotton plants grow?

trees

6) Where can cotton farms be found?

in tropical and subtropical areas of the world

Quelle: <https://kids.kiddle.co/Cotton>

Quelle: <https://www.rainforest-alliance.org/kids/bananas-from-bunch-to-breakfast>

Quelle: <https://weseedchange.org/where-do-tomatoes-come-from/>